WON HIS CASE.

A MAYSVILLE MERCHANT SENT A POSTAL CARD.

He Tried to Collect an Old Debt, and the Debtor Thought He Had Him on the Slip.

In 1891 one of Maysville's young men got into John T. Martin's debt to the tune of $20.00 on account of goods.

Later the debtor went to Chicago, and still later to Louisville.

All the time Mr. Martin followed him with postal cards, gently reminding him of the unsettled account.

At last the postal annoyed the young man, and at the October term of the Federal Court in Louisville he appeared before the Grand Jury and procured an indictment against Mr. Martin for violating the United States Postal Laws by mailing what are commonly called "dunning cards."

The attorney for Mr. Martin filed a demurrer, claiming that the United States law had not been violated and that the charge should be dismissed. Judge Barr, after considering the facts, dismissed the case and sustained the demurrer.

Interest attached to the case on account of the exceedingly important question of law involved.

A review of a former case is in point, as it had a material bearing upon the Martin case. July 8th, 1892, Judge Barr had before him an indictment against R. G. Elliott for sending the following postal card to a tenant:

"EXAMINE, KY, March 1st, 1892—Your rent was due Thursday, February 28th, 1892, and has not been paid. If the rent is not paid by the 1st of March, 1892, I will put the matter in the hands of an officer. Respectfully, R. G. Elliott."

The indictment against Elliott was based on the following portion of the act of September, 1888:

"Any delinquency, epithets, terms or language used in an insulting, abusive, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory or threatening character, or calculated by the terms, manner or tenor thereof, to be intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another."

According to the act of September, 1888, postal cards containing language of the import given were not mailable, and a heavy penalty could be imposed for violating the law. Judge Barr held in that case the language used did not violate the letter or spirit of the law. It sustaining the demurrer in that case Judge Barr, in the opinion of some leading attorneys, differed in several essential points from decisions heretofore rendered by other Federal Court Judges. One case cited was that of the United States vs. Brown 61 Fed. Rep. 135, and the other the United States vs. Bayle, 40 Fed. Rep. 664.

The Martin case was based on three postal cards which were written in August last to the debtor. The first read:

"Your account, due since January 1st, 1892, still stands without credit and remains due us $20.00, notwithstanding the numerous letters of promises we have on file that you have mailed us, and we hope you do not consider our account settled with promises. Since you have been silent so long, we will appreciate a remittance."

Your insulating letter of yesterday to hand, and in reply will state we are not looking for trouble, but simply for an account yearly due us $20.00, made in the year of 1891. Have received nothing but promises. We respectfully ask that you make some attempt at paying us, and an attempt to accept $1 per week on account until settled. You certainly cannot ask more than this. We have your letters where you have made promise after promise, and failed to fulfill them, and now ask for something more than promises.

The third postal reads:

"From what we hear here you are not working for starting wages, as you wrote in your last, but get a good, fair salary, and we are not at all surprised to hear you are not working on account."

Judge Barr dismissed the indictment in chambers.

BEWARE

THE "DEMMIES" ARE DESPERATE!

SOME OF THEIR DIRTY TRICKS BROUGHT TO LIGHT!

They're desperate, And some of the Democratic leaders propose to add dirt to their desperation.

Convinced that their ranks are seriously broken by the declaration of many good Democrats that they intend to support at least a few of the opposition candidates on the county ticket, some of the "leaders" of the local Democracy are arranging to accomplish by foul means what they cannot effect in fairness.

The Ledger has knowledge of a plan to organize an "excursion" of colored voters, to leave here Sunday and remain away until Tuesday night.

Each colored man is to receive the equivalent of $5—of which $1 is to pay his railroad fare, and $4 for the purchase of mean whiskey.

It may be well for self-respecting citizens to stop and consider whether they can and will indorse such demagoguery.

Another "scheme" is to make a number of colored men drunk on the morning of the election, and give them $10 apiece to "whop" and "holer" so that the officers will be obliged to land them in jail.

Nothing but sheer desperation could have driven the "gang" to these miserable extremes.

We will see if decent people indorse such disreputable measures.

Rev. W. H. Shelbourne, a worthy colored Baptist Minister, has been authorized to solemnize matrimony. J. W. Story going on his honeymoon.

OUR OWN CITY.

Maysville as Viewed by a Commercial Gazette Correspondent.

A correspondent of The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette recently spent a few hours in Maysville, and here are his impressions of the city:

Coming to Maysville, you find a thriving little city abounding in wealth and prosperity, with a population of 3,000. Mason county is one of the oldest in the State, and is said to be third or fourth in wealth. Maysville is the chief city and seat of justice and has many thriving modern business houses, with numerous newly fashioned residences, though the old style Southern architecture seems to prevail. The Public Schools of this city are good, and there is a seminary here, with liberal patronage, churches of many denominations, and the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian have exceedingly attractive places of worship. Maysville's schools are historic.

At one time when his parents resided at Felicity, O., U. S. Grant attended the old Hand & Richeson Seminary here, as did others who have since become distinguished. The Hon. Samuel J. Pugh, Republican candidate for Congress in the District, was at one time a pupil in this school.

Maysville is quite a modernly equipped little city, she has electric light, water works, gas, electric streetcars and conductors on them. The front doors of the saloons are closed on Sundays, I am told, as well as the barber shops. The city supports two daily newspapers and two weeklies. Colonel Thomas A. Davis owns THE LEADER, a bright little six-column paper, daily, while Rosser & McCarty operate THE Bulletin. I should not like to state positively whether these weekly journals are morning or evening, for THE PUBLIC LEADER (morning) appears about 11 o'clock a. m. The Bulletin (evening) makes its appearance at noon. Both are in time for the same mail connections to points in the country.

Colonel Davis was generally mentioned as a candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket, but declined to run. Colonel Davis has done a great work for the Republicans of this county, and he is far from being a Republican newspaper here. The Democratic majority in the county was about 3,000; now it is less than 600.

SPECIAL VOTE.

The Sixth Ward To Decide on the Stock Question.

At the request of many citizens of the Sixth Ward Council recently passed the following:

AN ORDINANCE To Provide For Taking the Sense of the Voters of the Sixth Ward of the City of Maysville, Ky., Upon the Question as to Whether It Shall Be Lawful For Stock to Run at Large in Said Ward on and After January 1st, 1895.

Be it ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Maysville, That an election shall be held in the Sixth Ward of the city of Maysville upon the day of the anniversary, 1894, by the qualified voters of said ward, at the same time and place at which the election for county and other officers is held, upon the question as to whether or not, on and after January 1st, 1895 it shall be lawful for stock to run at large in said ward.

All qualified voters in said ward who desire to vote that it shall not be lawful for stock to run at large in said ward, shall vote "For" the proposition, and those desiring to vote in the contrary manner shall vote "Against" the proposition.

The Board of Commissioners shall place upon the ballots in said ward the following proposition: "For or Against Prohibiting Stock from Running at Large in the Sixth Ward of the City of Maysville, Ky., on and After January 1st, 1895."

The proper spaces in columns headed "For" and "Against" shall be left blank for the voters to write, and the Clerk of the polls in said ward shall certify the result of said election to the City Council at its next meeting succeeding the same.

This act shall be in effect from and after its passage.

Approved in Council October 4th, 1894. Attest: WILLIAM H. COOK, Mayor.

Under the ordinance, all who wish stock confined will vote For the proposition.

It might be expected, there is some opposition to the movement, just as there was when the matter was proposed in the old part of the city.

It was declared, with muchunction, that it would work a hardship on poor people, who owned a cow or a few hogs; but as the law does not prohibit the ownership of cows, its only effect will be to oblige the owners to keep their animals where they may not destroy the neighbors' shrubbery or gardens.

It is safe to say that the restriction has a good thing for the city, and even those who opposed it at the time are now its strongest advocates.

If adopted by the Sixth Ward, there is every reason to believe that it will prove highly satisfactory.

STOCK IN THE SIXTH WARD.

Ed. Ledger: The stock question which the voters of the Sixth Ward are to decide in the coming election is generally misunderstood. The impression seems to be with a great many that all stock is to be voted out—that the poor man is not allowed to keep a cow or a few hogs, or even a few chickens. This is a very erroneous one, and whoever is so informed has been given a wrong version of the matter.

The question which we vote on is not whether we are allowed to keep stock in the city limits, but whether or not we are allowed to let them run at large to damage and annoy our fellow-citizens.

The men who let their stock run at large, and who are amply able to keep them up, are the instigators, and are the very ones who are misrepresenting facts to those who do keep their stock up in order to prejudice them against the good cause.

If the former should lose a cow or a hog, or even a horse, it being run over and killed by a train, it would make very little difference to them, as they are in a financial position to stand the loss; but it is different with the poor man who owns a cow or two or three hogs. He cannot afford to take losses, and neither does he want to keep them from harm by running them with the proper inclosure.

Should he lose a cow it would be a loss of many hard-earned dollars as the cow has cost, and would be almost irreparable. The whole thing is a very simple one. It will certainly not be to the disadvantage of the poor man if this question is decided against stock running at large. On the other hand it will benefit every resident of the Sixth Ward. It will keep the city free from the pest of the population, and with it enhance the value of real estate. Our merchants will have more goods and consequently accumulate more money.

Therefore, a vote against stock running at large is a vote in the right direction.

Colonel Powell B. Owens So Lingered Through His Hat.

A time-honored custom in Kentucky is that when a baby is born the father's hat is put on a stick.

Some days ago a fine horse was born to the wife of Powell B. Owens, Democratic candidate for Justice of the Peace at Fern Land.

Last Thursday Colonel Owens stopped at the Fern Land store when a crowd of people gathered to see the foal, and showed it into the store.

As the Colonel was a candidate for reelection he couldn't "kick," so he returned home bare-headed.

And now comes the Vanceburg correspondent with a red fire story about Mr. A. O. Stanley being "mobbed" at Tolliesboro.

Look out for a harvest of Democratic campaign lies between now and Tuesday. The leaders of the Mason county "gangs" are desperate, and they are already showing their tendency to resort to any means to bolster up their sinking fortunes.

We have an abiding faith that there are enough self-respecting Democrats in the city and county to defeat the Courthouse ring.

THE DUTCHMAN'S IDEA.

Too Many Jackasses in Congress Make the Law Prices.

Chairman Baehock of the Republican Congressional Committee has returned to Washington City from the Northwest. When asked about his trip he said:

"Everywhere I traveled I noticed the changed condition of things. For instance, in one Democratic club at Portage, Wis., where 135 Germans composed the membership, 113 of these have come out for the Republican nominee. In no case does a Republican intend to vote the Democratic ticket, but all over the West Democrats are changing their politics this year."

In Illinois Mr. Baehock had been informed that Cook county would give 30,000 Republican majority. The normal Republican majority outside of Cook county is 30,000. This would insure a Republican majority of 50,000 in the state, and the election of a Republican Senator.

In Indiana the Republicans were never better organized and the Democrats were correspondingly demoralized.

When asked what caused this change in public opinion, Chairman Baehock replied that he could best illustrate the situation by a story he had heard in Wisconsin.

Two farmers were discussing the low price of horses. One contended that it was due to the general use of electricity as a motive power in cities. The other argued that bicycles had supplanted horse flesh, as bicycles required no grooming and ate no oats. Being unable to agree they decided to submit the argument to a third person, a German in the neighborhood, who heard both sides. This German was a Democrat, and after giving consideration the matter said:

"I know nothing about electricity or these bicycles. I will tell you the reason horses are so cheap. There are too many jackasses at present in Congress in Washington."

"That," said Chairman Baehock, "is the prevailing idea, and especially among the farming classes. They are getting low prices for their products and the wages of laborers has gone down from 30 to 20 cents."

"In addition to this the threat of Chairman Wilson and President Cleveland to continue the agitation of the Tariff question and secure the passage of Free-trade bills frightens all the people who want to be let alone. McKinley and Wilson Abroad.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effigy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1898 William L. Wilson was dined and dined in London because he is the author of a Free-Trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

JUDGE HELM of Newport having decided that the Republicans cannot use the Eagle as a device at the head of their ticket, they have adopted a plain circle. That is eminently proper; for the Republicans will be very much "in the ring" this year.

EVERY voter should cut out and paste in his hat this paragraph, from Chairman WILLIAM L. WILSON's speech before the London Chamber of Commerce. He said:

"Our Protectionists have been building defenses to keep you and other Nations from competing with us in our home market. These tariff reformers are breaking down these defenses."

THREE hundred and twenty manufacturers report that during the first six months of the present year they have employed 29,500 fewer workmen than during the first six months of 1892, and the reduction of wages amounts to over $5,000,000. How glad workmen must be that the McKinley Bill is repealed!

If you are a Democrat and want to scratch your party ticket, here's the way to do it: Don't put any mark under the rooster at all. Simply place your X mark in the square after the name of each man for whom you want to vote, no matter whether he is a Republican or Democrat, being careful not to mark any two for the same office.

PUBLIC LEDGER.

A DECREASE of $34,000,000 in the circulation of money in the United States between September 1st, 1893, and September 1st, 1894, a decrease of 30 cents for every man, woman and child in the country. This under a Democratic and Pro-trade administration. Is it possible? We should never believe it if these figures were not given out by a Democratic Secretary of the Treasury. Senator Jones will know who deprecates the money circulation of the country.

NICHOLAS II.

He Proclaims His Sovereignty Over the Empire.

In St. Petersburg the Imperial Heralds in Their Brilliant Uniforms

Announce the Death of Alexander III.—The New Emperor Issues a Proclamation—Outward Rejoicing for Nicholas—Body of the Dead Czar in Coffin.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—At 9 o'clock Friday morning the imperial heralds in brilliant uniforms, attended by a troop of trumpeters, announced the death of Alexander III. and the accession to the throne of Russia of Nicholas II. The two heralds, with their escorts, traversed all the principal streets of the city, and after the trumpeters had delivered three ringing blasts upon their trumpets, they made public the proclamation of Emperor Nicholas II., as follows:

"May the knowledge console you that our grief is the grief of our entire beloved nation, and may it never be forgotten that the strength and firmness of holy Russia lies in its unity and in unbounded devotion to us."

"In this sad and solemn hour in which we ascend our ancestral throne of the Russian empire and of the duchy of Finland, indissolubly linked with it, we, however, remember the legacy left us by our lamented father, and imbued with it, we, in the presence of the Most High, take a sacred vow to make our sole aim the peaceful development of the power and glory of our beloved Russia and the happiness of all our faithful subjects."

The manifesto concludes with commanding that the oath of allegiance be taken to him, Emperor Nicholas II. and to his heir apparent, Grand Duke George Alexandrovich, his brother. Throughout St. Petersburg Friday the accession of the new czar was celebrated as a festival, for this event takes precedence of the mourning ceremonies. The Russian newspapers, therefore, appeared without black borders, and all signs of public mourning were withheld until Saturday.

At 10 o'clock Thursday evening the first requiem mass for the repose of the soul of Alexander III. was celebrated in St. Petersburg at all the churches and members of the council of the empire were present. When the service was over all those in attendance took the oath of allegiance to Czar Nicholas II. and to his heir presumptive, the czarowitch, Grand Duke George, brother of the emperor. Friday morning the senate met in plenary session and all its members took the oath of allegiance. At the same time all the troops forming the garrison of St. Petersburg were paraded in full uniform with their colors and were sworn with the customary formality.

Later the same ceremony was observed in the case of the civil servants of the empire. LITHUANIA, Nov. 3.—The remains of Czar Alexander III., having been embalmed and attired in the uniform of the Preobrazhensky regiment of the guard, were conveyed Friday morning to the private chapel of the palace. The bier was surrounded with lighted candles and is watched by relays of priests and officers of the army. At the religious services, which were afterward held in the chapel, all the members of the imperial family and the imperial household were present. The officiating priest, after reading the requiem, began chanting an impressive liturgy. The whole ceremony was the most imposing and produced the deepest effect upon those present.

What It Cost to Feed the Army.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—It costs $5,309,502 to feed the army during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, according to the annual report just made to the secretary of war by Brig. Gen. John P. Hawkins, commissary general of subsistence. The other expenses of the commissary department bring the total amount expended during the year up to $2,627,170, leaving a balance of $159,570. Liquid coffee alone cost $3,941, a decrease of $2,000 from the expenditure for the same purpose during the previous year.

Charged With Criminal Assault.
CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 3.—Ed Elliott, a colored man from the country, was arrested Friday morning, charged with criminally assaulting Victoria Jenkins, a colored married woman of this city. The woman states that Thursday night Elliott went to her house, made advances, and used brass knuckles and forced her to submit. He is in jail to await trial Monday. The colored people were wrought up over the crime, and followed Elliott in crowds.

The Big Gorilla Dead.
BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The big Gorilla Gumbo, in a museum here for several months, has finally succumbed to consumption. All that remains of him now is lifeless and being prepared by a taxidermist for mounting. WILL FRANCE SUFFER?

The New Czar's sympathies held to be With England and Germany.
LONDON, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Rome says it is believed the new czar, whose sympathies are known to be with Germany and England, will by degrees detach himself from France. The special adds, however, that a personage connected with the Russian embassy asserts that the accession of Nicholas II. inaugurates a new policy, but only in regard to home legislation and in the direction of liberal reforms. Russia's foreign policy this official is quoted as saying the traditions of the czar's father will remain unchanged. The vatican is said to hope that the czar will continue the traditions of friendliness towards Rome which marked the last days of Czar Alexander III., are universal. The officials of the Russian embassy have been overwhelmed with messages of condolence. Flags are half-masted everywhere in London and in the large cities of the United Kingdom and special religious services are being arranged at Buckingham palace, at Marlborough and at all the other residences of the royal family. In addition the shades are drawn down at all the palaces and other habitations of royalty, and orders have been issued that the military bands are not to play at any function until after the funeral.

Queen Victoria is profoundly affected at the death of Czar Alexander, and has issued the necessary instructions for the court to go into mourning for the usual period.

The press reflects the feeling of sympathy expressed on all sides among the queen's subjects for the Russian nation in its grief.

A DOUBLE PARRICIDE.
The Atrocious Crime of a Frenchman on a Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Without known provocation William Gipp shot his mother to death and fatally wounded his father at their home in this city Friday.

The paricide was employed as a railway car inspector, the duties of which position kept him out all night. He entered the house on Saturday morning, and without a word to show his intention, drew a revolver, with which he fired twice at his mother. One bullet struck her in the temple, while the other took effect in her body. She died almost instantly.

The shots aroused the family. The father was the first to appear, and at him the son shot twice, one bullet striking him at the corner of the right eye near the nose, and the other taking effect in his right breast. The other sons then entered the room and grappled with William, trying to wrest the weapon from him. After a hard struggle he got away from them and ran out into the back yard and escaped. The father is at the hospital in a critical condition.

A PATRIOTIC POLICEMAN.

He Pays the Mount Vernon Reproduction and Lives in It.
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The Virginia state building at the World's fair, which was a reproduction of George Washington's Mount Vernon mansion, has been purchased and is now occupied as a residence by a Chicago policeman, W. C. McGuire. The house, which cost $17,000, was bought by McGuire for $400 and moved to a lot on Stony Island avenue three miles away, and now a Chicago policeman keeps in the reproduction of the bed chamber of the Father of His Country. The officer intends to furnish the place with furniture modeled after that of the Mount Vernon mansion.

Two Firemen Killed.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 3.—Hammond's packing plant at South Omaha is burning. The interior of the main building is already gutted. It is believed that fire will be confined to what is known as the "beef house," a four-story brick building 200 by 300 feet. The building cost $200,000, and with the contents will probably bring the total loss to $300,000. There is $150,000 insurance on the whole plant. The entire Omaha fire department is on the ground, assisting the local department. Two firemen belonging to the Hammond fire department were caught under falling walls and instantly killed.

THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

Did U?

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home"? And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of the Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.

JAP VICTORIES.

Marshal Yamagata Captures Fong-Fang-Chen.

This Leaves the Road to Moukden Clear for the Japanese.

The Chinese Are Flying Toward Nien-Ling.—The investment of Port Arthur has been completed. The Japanese have been successful in attacking Kin-Chow. Both Tientsin and Port Arthur are in a critical condition.

The Central News learns that the capture of Fong-Fang-Chen leaves the road to Moukden clear for the Japanese. Marshal Yamagata is expected to be with striking distance of Moukden on November 10. It is believed that the city is held by a very large but untrained and poorly equipped force.

Tokyo, Nov. 3.—The Japanese have captured Port Arthur. Early Friday morning it was rumored here that the investment of Port Arthur by the Japanese forces had been completed by land and by sea and that the forward movement of both the Japanese forces in the direction of Moukden was being rapidly pushed. Japan will seize the warships now in port, and moreover, can if she chooses do so on her injured craft on the enemy's pier. Wait-Hai-Wel, on the opposite side of the road, will also doubtless fall into the hands of the Japs. Of course the vast supplies at both ports will be seized by the victors.

A Steam Pipe Burst at the Edison Electric Works, Cincinnati.—One Fireman Believed to Have Been Fatally Injured.

Cincinnati, Nov. 3.—A number of firemen were in the vicinity of the Edison Electric Light Co. at a few minutes before 9 o'clock Friday evening, when without a moment's warning, the large tube burst with a terrific report, and the next moment steam began to hiss through the ceiling, encompassing everything in its stinging, burning clutches. The men made frantic efforts to get out of the place, but before they could do so the steam was so overcast that the police were notified and patrols 1 and 3 hurried to the place, but could do no good until all the steam had escaped from the boiler. Then the officers went down stairs and found that the steam was rapidly forming water and filling the place to the depth of several inches.

By 7 o'clock the entire cellar was flooded with several feet of water and the danger from fire, smoke and steam was still great. DUN'S REVIEW.

Much to Encourage the Public Is Found Therein.

Volume of Production Maintained and in Some Branches Increased.

Payments Through the Principal Clothing Houses Good.—The Fallures Continue Small, and No Monetary Difficulties.

New York, Nov. 3.—R. O. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade Saturday may say: "The last week of October, with an exciting election near, can not indicate much of the condition of business. In some trades the season is too far advanced for great activity, and in others the supposed effects of the voting influence are seen. But it is satisfactory that the volume of production is well maintained and in one or two branches increased; that no monetary difficulties exist; that breadstuffs are a little higher, and that no material decline appears during the week in manufacturing products."

The fact that any decline appears, with slackening in demand for some products, may perhaps be attributed to uncertainty, mainly political in origin, while every increase in the wooling force helps to make a basis for more business hereafter. At present the volume of business transacted is on the whole, smaller than last year, and much smaller than in 1897, though a presidential election was then close at hand.

"Payments through principal clearing houses for the week have been 12.8 per cent. less than last year, and 34.4 per cent. less than in 1897, in both comparisons with decrease outside of New York as well as here."

"Manufacturers of woollens are not inclined to produce in advance of the clearing January 1, and so are buying only for current needs, and at the same time, as the wool goes back to the east, less than in 1897, in both comparisons with decrease outside of New York as well as here."

The three eastern markets, sales for the week were $4,041,000, against $4,458,000, 1896, and $7,056,000, 1897, in 1897.

"The government has sustained a heavy deficit for the month of October, and customs receipts are disappointing light. Exports for the past four weeks were 16 per cent. less than last year, while imports were 9 per cent. greater."

"Failures continue small, and for four weeks, ending October 25, liabilities were $2,200,000, on which $3,140,000 were of manufacturing and $4,891,434 of trading concerns. Southern failures are comparatively small, and the eastern and western about equal. During the past week failures have been 240 in the United States, against 355 last year, and fifty in Canada, against twenty-eight last year."

Corrects Fright. —COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—John Moff, a one-year burglar from Cleveland, and John Coffey, a five-year convict from Zanesville, had a vicious fight Friday morning. They are kept in the city house. Moff called Coffey a name and the latter struck him. Then the fight became furious. When taken to the deputy warden they claimed to be insane, but both were taken to the "cellar" and punished.

Terrorist Newspaper Man Hurt. —COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Nathan Fitzpatrick, a newspaper man, who has had more down than up, was hurt in a buggy Friday morning at the corner of Third and Longstreets and is recovering. The best hope is that the fight and the dogs crouch at their masters' feet when they are placed upon the scene. Much stock is missing. An organized hunt is in progress.

A Wild Hunt Following. —COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Harrisburg, a hunter, followed a wild hunt of this city, is agitated over the appearance in this vicinity of an animal whose identity they have not been able to discover. The beast howls frightfully and the dogs crouch at their masters' feet when they are placed upon the scene. Much stock is missing. An organized hunt is in progress.
